

SCHOOLS THAT MISSED THE MARK

Fifty-three of the 216 schools in the five cities of South Hampton Roads did not make "adequate yearly progress" toward federal goals under the No Child Left Behind Act. To pass, schools must show success for all students, including those of different racial, ability and income groups. For a report on any school in the state, visit <https://p1pe.doe.virginia.gov/reportcard/>.
